

Invitation to the AEC International Regulatory Conference 2026

Dear Madam/Sir,

We are pleased to invite you on the annual International Regulatory Conference (IRC) 2026 which will be organized and hosted by the Agency for Electronic Communications of Republic of North Macedonia. The Conference will be held in the historical and picturesque Macedonian town Ohrid on 19th and 20th of May 2026. With your presence you will contribute together to give the honor to the World Telecommunication and Information Society Day and to the issue that we all are dedicated to – electronic communications. This Conference will bring together the participants from across Europe, including Governmental representatives, ITU representatives, Regulatory Authorities, academic community, operators, industry experts and other companies as well as key persons in the national and global electronic communications market.

This Conference under the motto “Rules for Tomorrow Meet Today” captures the essence of a transformative period, where today’s discussions, expertise and decisions are directly influencing the rules that will govern tomorrow’s electronic communications landscape actively shaping the regulatory frameworks of tomorrow. The Agenda will be published on the web site www.aec.mk . If you are interested in presenting your achievements on these topics, you are greatly welcome to suggest and share them with us at this event. Two separate workshops dedicated to Cybersecurity and Consumer Protection will be parallel organized.

The International Regulatory Conference 2026 is organised as a two day event (19th -20th of May) and will take place in Hotel “Metropol” in Ohrid . Welcome Cocktail will be organized on 18thof May 2026 ..

Please confirm your participation on this link: <https://forms.office.com/e/FTCTS0c7Xu> and express your interest of presentation by sending its title on an email to irc2026@aec.mk latest by 06 of May 2026.
